Senate Okays Park Powers

Will Permit Development By Issuing Revenue Bonds

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill to give the State Park Board broad power to finance new park developments by issuing revenue bonds finally won its way through the Senate today.

The bill and its sponsors shook off a barrage of amendments which they described as crippling. Most of them were offered by Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley.

Hawkins said he wanted to keep the board from competing with private enterprise.

All his amendments were defeated except one to require the governor's approval before any revenue bonds could be issued and sold.

Another change tacked on during the two days of debate would make it impossible for the board to go ahead with an improvement project unless the Legislature had appropriated the money.

In a final amendment, Hawkins sought to prevent the board from giving free meals or rooms to anyone but park employes. He said he wanted to protect the board from pressure by state officials, legislators and others.

During hearings on the bill, Park Board officials said the revenue bond method is the only way to get enough money to finance the improvements they have in mind—including a proposed $750,000 development at a new Table Rock Reservoir Park in Taney County and the new "Trail of Tears" Park in Cape Girardeau County.

Under the bill the bonds would bear four per cent interest and mature in 40 years. They would have to be retired from revenue earned at the park where the bond money was used for improvements.

Meanwhile a subcommittee was appointed to work on the administration's fire safety bill. Members are Sens. John W. Joynt (D) of St. Louis, John A. Johnson (D) of Ellington and Harry E. Hatcher (D) of Granby.

The bill was drafted for Gov. James T. Blair by a special committee headed by Maj. Gen. Ralph E. Truman (Ret.) of Springfield after the Warrenton nursing home fire last month killed 72 persons.

It calls for a division of public safety and fire prevention with a $12,000 a year director appointed by the governor and a staff of inspectors on a bipartisan basis. The agency would have broad power to make fire safety rules and enforce them in hotels, hospitals, taverns, schools and other places where people gather.

The Senate Judiciary Committee delayed action on a sweeping revision of the juvenile code.

Sen. George A. Spencer (D) of Columbia, the sponsor, agreed to keep the age limit for juveniles at 17 instead of raising it to 18 as originally proposed.

He agreed to the change after an outspoken sheriff, Glenn Hendricks of Springfield, said the age change to 18 was approved by "lawyers and judges who see the juveniles only in Juvenile Court—They don't know what goes on out there on Friday night.

"When I go out and get a 17-year-old who just shot someone, take two guns off him and have to use four deputies to get him in the car, then I don't feel safe turning him over to some welfare worker as a 'misunderstood child,'" Hendricks said.

Special Group To Capital On Blind Aid

Loss of Federal Money Would Mean Cut In Pensions

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. James T. Blair announced today the threat of losing federal aid to the blind will send a special delegation of Missouri legislators to Washington next week.

"If we lose federal aid to the blind," the governor said in a statement, "I am advised that the grants will have to be reduced from the present $60 monthly payment to $30 per month."

He said that would amount to "serious deprivation" for the blind and every effort should be made to save the federal aid money.

The Missourians will meet with members of the Missouri congressional delegation next Monday. Accompanying the legislators will be Welfare Director Proctor N. Carter and the chief counsel for the Welfare Division, Elmore G. Crowe.

As things stand, Missouri operates two programs for the blind, Carter explained. One is the aid to the blind program, financed on a 39-21 basis by federal-state funds with the federal government paying the larger share on a maximum $60 monthly grant.

The other is a flat $60 a month pension financed entirely by state funds. Anyone with defective vision (five feet compared with a normal 200 feet) can qualify for this pension, no matter whether he has $10 or $10,000 in cash.

By contrast, Carter noted, an old age pensioner can't have more than $500 in cash and still draw assistance.

Two states—Missouri and Pennsylvania — have the dual system and unless Congress extends it before June 30, the flat grant pension system will expire.

If it does expire and the Missouri Legislature does not enact legislation putting all the blind on a need basis, Carter said the state would lose $2,350,000 annually in federal blind aid funds.

About 4,700 persons get aid under the federal-state program and about 334 get the flat blind pensions financed wholly from state funds. If Congress fails to extend the dual program, Carter said about 208 blind persons would get less than $60 and about 152 would be cut off entirely because they have too much cash to qualify.

Going with Carter to Washington will be Sen. Jack C. Jones (D) of Carrolton, Sen. Albert M. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau, Sen. Leo J. Rozier (R) of Perryville, Rep. Samuel E. Twomey (D) of Iron County, Rep. Arthur D. Smith (R) of Jasper County and Rep. Daniel Curran (D) of St. Louis.

Circuit Court Room Gets New Tile Floor

People using the Circuit Court room won't have to watch their step quite as closely in the future.

The ragged and worn linoleum floor has been removed and is being replaced with an asphalt tile flooring of black and white blocks. It was necessary to resurface the concrete floor underneath, since it was rough and partly the cause of wear on the old floor.

The work is being done by Howard Durham, who was low bidder. Cost of laying the tile is approximately $592.

Warmup With Rain Expected for State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Spring came to Missouri today with prospects of some rain and a warmup.

Occasional light rain was forecast for extreme southwest Missouri this afternoon with occasional rain spreading over the south and central sections tonight and Thursday.

For the next five days temperatures are forecast to average three to five degrees above normal. Some thunderstorms are expected over the weekend.

Accuses Three Of Violation In Death Case

Defense Attorney Says Nurses Talked About Case on Train

LONDON (AP) — Counsel for Dr. John Bodkin Adams today accused three of the prosecution's star witnesses in the "Eastbourne widow" murder trial of discussing their evidence on the way to court this morning in violation of the judge's warning.

One admitted under cross-examination that during the conversation the remark was made, "Don't say that or you will get me into trouble."

Chief defense attorney Geoffrey Lawrence charged that three nurses who are testifying for the Crown against the 58-year-old doctor took the same train to court and talked about the case.

The nurses had cared for Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, the wealthy 81-year-old widow the doctor is accused of poisoning in 1950 to benefit from her will. Her body was cremated and her ashes scattered over the English Channel.

The third day of the trial saw the portly doctor still looking supremely confident in the dock at historic Old Bailey. And since last night he was assured that even if convicted, he will not hang.

The House of Lords last night gave final passage to the bill previously approved by the House of Commons to limit the death penalty to certain types of murder. The Queen's signature, an automatic step, will make it law.

Poisoners now are exempt from the gallows. Murders still punishable by hanging include shooting, killing of police or prison officers, killing during attempts at theft and killing while resisting or avoiding arrest.

Paid As Stable Manager

Brewster Testifies He Received $5,000 Yearly By Insurance Agent for Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank W. Brewster testified today he received $5,000 a year in 1951, 1952 and 1953 as "stable manager" for a Seattle insurance man who was making $300,000 a year in brokerage fees on Teamsters Union welfare funds.

Brewster said insurance man George Newell paid him the money.

Brewster told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee the money was "salary" paid for a job which he said required him to get up at 4:30 a.m., every day to supervise the walking of Newell's race horses.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Newell had listed the $5,000 payment for 1951 on an income tax report as a "commission" paid to Brewster.

"I would not have taken any of that money if I knew it came from commission," Brewster said. He added that "I cannot help" how Newell listed it, and that he has heard the broker subsequently changed it.

Before the questioning got into Brewster's relations with Newell, the senators had brought from Brewster that a campaign contribution was made to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California, and that Brewster later interceded with Knight to get Charles Tait of Seattle appointed as San Francisco's port director.

It was the third straight day that Brewster, chairman of the Teamsters Western Conference, was in the witness chair of the committee.

As today's hearings proceeded, time was running out on the committee's demand that President Dave Beck of the Teamsters furnish it with his personal financial records.

British Leader In Bermuda To Meet Ike

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) —British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew into Bermuda today for urgent talks with President Eisenhower on the Middle East crisis and half a dozen other world issues.

Eisenhower, winding up a week's health cruise on the guided missile cruiser Canberra, was due here six hours later.

Macmillan's big double decked Stratoruiser from London touched down at Bermuda at 9:59 a.m.

Two minutes later Macmillan stepped from the BOAC's Cassiopia and received the welcome of Lt. Gen. Sir John Woodall, British governor of these islands in the mid-Atlantic.

Within 15 minutes after landing Macmillan set out over Bermuda's winding roads for the Mid-Ocean Club where he and Eisenhower and their foreign ministers will do their talking for the next four days.

One of their chief purposes is to try to lay some practical basis for rebuilding the British - American partnership which has been a cornerstone of the free world alliance since the end of World War II. The partnership was virtually wrecked by the Middle East crisis last fall.

Diplomats said top priority in the talks had to go to the most urgent aspects of the Middle East crisis involving Israel and Egypt.

Macmillan was expected to ask the President to exert more vigorous and determined American leadership. The British are reported to feel that American policy has been lacking in decisiveness and depended too heavily on the United Nations.

Auto Rates Take Jump In Missouri

New Insurance Premium Rates Effective Today

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Increased automobile insurance rates went into effect today throughout Missouri.

The hike in premium rates, announced by two rating organizations in behalf of their member and subscriber companies, affected liability, collision and comprehensive coverage.

Increases in liability coverage varied according to car classifications and territory.

In general the rate increases ranged from $2 to $15 for cars operated exclusively by males 25 and over. For cars operated by married men under 25 and for family cars with young male operators the increase ranged from $6 to $22. For cars principally operated by unmarried men under 26 the rate increase ranged from $25 to $60, depending on territory.

One rating firm cited an increased accident rate and loss of life, greater economic costs, and more congested streets.

For collision coverage, premiums for $50 deductible policies on private passenger automobiles went up 5 per cent in Kansas City, Springfield, St. Joseph and St. Louis. Increases in the rest of the state averaged about 9 per cent.

Comprehensive policies for popular priced new passenger cars have been raised $3 to $4 in most parts of the state. This type of insurance is for such perils as fire, theft, windstorm, hail and glass breakage.

Sheriff Finds A Legal Problem

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—The discovery that a moat-surrounded island reportedly owned by rackets boss Frank (Buster) Wortman lies in two counties has complicated efforts of authorities to inspect it.

St. Clair County Sheriff Leonard O. Reinhardt said yesterday a survey determined that a small bridge and part of the island are in St. Clair County, but the fortress-like building on it is in Madison County.

John Hoban, St. Clair County state's attorney, said he will now ask Richard Mudge Jr., Madison County state's attorney, to join him in an inspection of the man-made island and building.

Hoban had announced his intention to inspect the property even if he had to get a search warrant.

He said he was acting on reports that furniture is being moved into the structure from two Wortman - owned taverns which were recently raided by state police, who confiscated gambling equipment in the raids.

Sam Magin, a friend of Wortman's has said he is building a boy's club on the island. Work began in August, 1955, on the project and it is almost finished. A St. Louis construction company official has estimated the cost of the project at $250,000.

Britain Will Accept Offer to Conciliate

Asks Exiled Archbishop For Peace

States If Makarios Ends Cyprus Killing, He'll Be Released

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today she is ready to accept an offer of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to conciliate in the Cyprus dispute.

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd told the House of Commons the NATO offer is to conciliate among Britain, Greece and Turkey, all members of the 15-nation alliance.

Lennox-Boyd said that, with the new development, Britain is making a fresh appeal to Archbishop Makarios, exiled Greek orthodox leader of the Cypriot Union-with-Greece movement, to call a halt to the campaign of violence in the British Mediterranean colony.

The colonial secretary made it clear this was the government's only answer to the underground EOKA's offer to call truce in exchange for Archbishop Makarios' release from the Seychelle Islands in the Indian Ocean.

Lennox - Boyd said if the archbishop makes a clear statement calling for an end to the violence the "government will be ready to bring to an end his detention in the Seychelles."

Greece has demanded self-determination for the colony, saying the predominantly Greek population should be given the right to govern themselves.

The island's Turkish minority refuses to accept any solution that would not give them voice in government.

Gay Nineties Theme

PTA to Hold Annual Variety, Style Show

Anybody got a policeman's hat of the Gay Nineties? Could anybody even describe such a hat? And is there a baby buggy of that period in anybody's attic?

Again this year there are problems as the Smith-Cotton High School Music Department plans to present its variety show.

The 1957 Variety and Style Show sponsored by the Smith-Cotton PTA will be presented Thursday and Friday nights, March 28 and 29, in the school auditorium. The theme of the variety show will be "Up in Central Park" and the art department has already made the backdrop for the setting in Central Park. There is even a man and a woman riding in a horse and buggy.

Among the features will be special numbers by two male quartets, one singing "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," and the other, "While Strolling Through the Park," and a duet number, "April Snow" by Barbara Mabry and Ken Williams. The chorus will open with "Up in Central Park" and there will be a Flora Dora chorus, too, and "The Bowery." In the park, also, will be a carousel and—yes—some bathing beauties.

Smith-Cotton students are out selling tickets and there will be a prize for the class selling the most.

The style show will be presented following the variety show both nights. On Thursday night will be models showing styles from the following stores: Russell Brothers, Youth Shop, Burton's, Penney's, Mullen's, Jidel Vogue and Lockett's. On Friday night will be: Connor - Waggoner's, Maxine's, Lads and Lassies Shop, Wilson's, Flower's, Patterson's and Ellis'.

The variety show starts at 7:30 p.m.

Senator Byrd Meets Wilson On Work Cut

Congressmen Want Other Departments To Follow Example

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) called on Secretary of Defense Wilson today to expand and extend on a worldwide basis a proposed 12 per cent cut in defense department office workers in the Washington area.

Sens. Hickenlooper (R - Iowa) and Mansfield (D-Mont) joined Byrd in applauding Wilson's announcement yesterday that he had told the Army, Navy and Air Force to eliminate 6,414 military and civilian jobs here in the year beginning July 1.

Wilson said he will order simicuts in many defense headquarters—but not in combat units—at home and abroad. Byrd said this was "encouraging" but he urged Wilson to order across the board cuts at American installations all around the world.

Hickenlooper said he thinks it would be "a good thing if other department heads follow Secretary Wilson's example."

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader, said that Wilson was "making a dent" by taking the initiative in a drive to cut government expenses.

"With him," Mansfield said, "economy seems a matter of deeds and not just words."

Senatorial applause for Wilson contrasted with House criticism of Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

Would Power Missile

Company Reveals New Type Rocket Engine In Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big new rocket engine, using solid instead of hard-to-handle liquid fuel for powering an intermediate range ballistic missile, has been developed and put under test.

This was disclosed today in a routine annual report to stockholders by the General Tire Co., which seemed to contain considerably more information about some weapons than has been announced by the Defense Department. The report said the new rocket motor went into its testing stage last October.

The motor was designed by the company's Aerojet-General Corp. and, said the report, is "the largest solid propellant power plant ever used in any ballistic missile." The motor was developed for the Jupiter IRBM, the company reports.

However, Army experts told a newsman that Jupiter IRBM program does not now include use of a solid instead of liquid fuel. This appeared to indicate the new rocket engine may be intended for use by the Navy in its Polaris IRBM. The Navy started out with the Army on joint development of the Jupiter, but a few months ago announced plans to go ahead with its own project.

For reasons of handling and stowage aboard ships at sea, the Navy favors a solid fuel instead of the fuming nitric acid and oxidizer used generally in Army and Air Force ballistic missiles.

The annual report also mentions these hitherto little known developments:

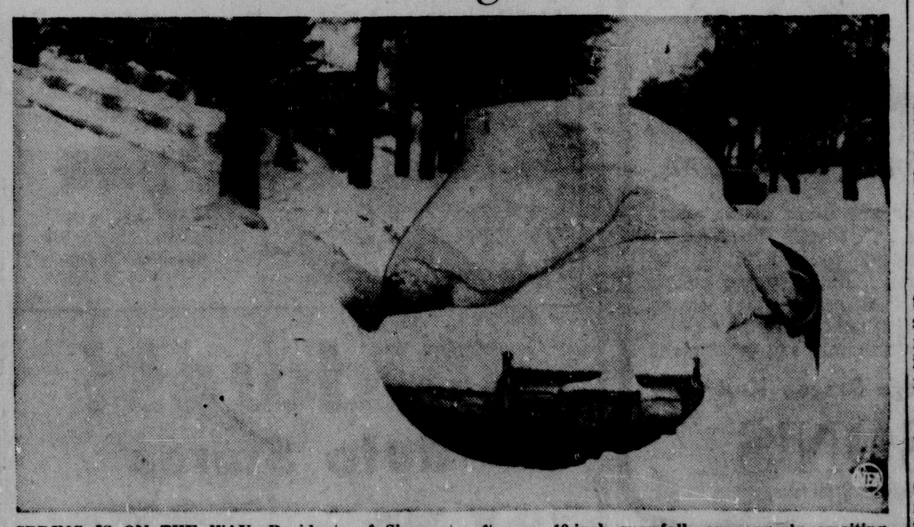

1. A new type of motor for torpedoes, using solid fuel like that for rockets instead of the traditional compressed air or alcohol-powered motors.

2. Deveolpment of a mine-searching "mini-sub" for the British admiralty.

3. A power plant for the Bullpup guided missile, a Navy weapon used for attack from planes against ships and other surface targets.

4. Development of a liquid-fueled booster for launching the Air Force's long-range Bomarc missile.

Nixon Watches Free Tunisia Show Off Army

TUNIS (AP)—Vice President Nixon and guests from 33 nations watched free Tunisia parade its new army of 3,000 men in celebration of its first independence anniversary.

A delicate diplomatic problem was solved when the French representative, Justice Minister Francois Mitterand, was seated in front row of the reviewing stand and Algerian nationalist leaders were given back seats out of his view.

French officials boycotted a government banquet and theater party last night and had threatened to stay away from today's ceremonies because the Algerians had been invited. Nixon attended the festivities last night.

France has been waging a long fight to put down the nationalist rebellion in Algeria, which the French claim is part of France itself.

Speculation Rises on Ike Credit Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speculation sharpened today on whether President Eisenhower will ask Congress for standby powers to regulate consumer installment credit.

The odds seemed to be against it, for interest has been lukewarm lately. But it was spotlighted by the issuance yesterday of a massive study prepared at Eisenhower's request by the staff of the Federal Reserve Board.

The researchers found that easy-payment buying of autos and consumer goods tends to be unruly. "The major influence," they said, "has been to add fuel to booms; it has less often been an aggravating factor during recessions."

The FRB staff found that the credit structure, though carrying a record 31½ billion dollars of installment debt, is less likely than in 1929 to collapse during a recession into defaults, foreclosures and repossessions. It nevertheless cautioned:

"The possibility of an episode of drastic and spiraling liquidation should not be dismissed."

The report is neutral on standby controls; it presents various conflicting views in its five volumes and 1,619 pages. The reserve board itself has taken no position though it presumably would administer any controls voted, as it does the margin buying of stock on the exchanges.

Eisenhower asked Congress 14 months ago to "consider" standby controls. That was just after the 1955 auto credit binge, when total installment debt outstanding had soared by 5½ billion dollars.

Man Makes Amends For Raising Prices At His Hot Dog Stand

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—More than 20 years ago Moe Batchin opened a mid-city lunch counter which bore the number 108½.

The fraction bothered Moe a great deal. In an eating place only five feet wide and 14 feet long, a man can serve too few persons in a day. By his own account, Moe starting selling 5-cent hot dogs and hamburgers and he wanted to keep it that way. And he did, as long as possible. In the end he had to raise prices.

"It was like breaking faith," he said.

This week, however, Moe feels that in a way he is making amends.

An expansion project having been completed, the luncheonette at last dropped the cramping "½" for a full number. To celebrate the "grand reopening" Monday, Moe dished out hot dogs and hamburgers all day and most of the night, to all comers, for a nickel apiece.

Says Highway Changes Out Do Planning

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A city planning expert predicted today that highway construction over the next 20 years will change the character and structure of metropolitan areas more than all the work of metropolitan planners since 1945.

John T. Howard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology associate professor, offered with his prophecy on the impact of the expanded federal highway construction program this lament:

"We are ill prepared, now that the new highways are upon us, to say where they should be built in the best interests of the metropolitan areas."

Howard, addressing the American Society of Planning Officials, argued that the purpose of highways was not "the carrying of traffic but to serve the community."

He said a highway so designed and built that it produces land development patterns "worsening the livability and efficiency of a metropolitan area is a disservice to the community."

He declared the U.S. Highway Act of 1956 proposing the building of billions of dollars worth of modern highways "does not recognize these all-imprtant aspects of highway design."

"In the absence of metropolitan planning and development policies, each decision on highway location will be based on highway engineering, traffic engineering and costs," Howard contended.

He noted that the federal act—silent on planning—gives route locating authority to state highway departments.

He expressed hope "that the state and federal engineers, even though they are in a hurry and even though the law does not require, will pause and listen to what metropolitan planners have to say.

"And, where it is not too late, that they will modify their plans if they recognize the soundness and wisdom of what they hear."

Wonder Horse Dies at Advanced Age of 33 Years

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Lady Wonder, a brown mare with a reputation as the "swami" of the four-legged set, is dead at the advanced animal age of 33.

A veterinarian attributed the horse's death yesterday to a common human failing, a heart attack.

Over the years Lady attracted almost as much attention pecking away at a horse-sized typewriter contraption in her stall as did her more fleet-footed relatives on the nation's tracks.

Her mistress, Mrs. Claudia Fonda, claimed Lady could read minds and was clairvoyant. There were many who were willing to concede this while skeptics insisted if there was any clairvoyance it was possessed by Mrs. Fonda herself.

But whether it was clairvoyance or sheer coincidence, Lady's "answers" more than once caused a flurry of excitement.

In 1952 the mare was credited by police in Quincy, Mass., with providing clues that led to the finding of the body of Danny Matson, a 4-year-old child missing for two years.

A psychologist and specialist on extra-sensory perception, Dr. J. B. Rhine of Duke University, once said Lady gave evidence of some telepathic ability. He later asserted, however, there was evidence of signaling.

Missouri Can Show You . . .

Last Home of NATHAN BOONE, Ash Grove

Nathan Boone's home stands as a favorite stopping point for tourists.

Captain, and later major of the Missouri Mounted Rangers during the War of 1812, Nathan Boone, the most distinguished son of Daniel Boone, entered the regular army and, before the war's end, became lieutenant colonel of the Second Dragoons.

Having built this four-room home in 1837, he retired here in 1853. He anchored the wide plank flooring with wood pegs and built the chimney of native stone. Nearby are the graves of Nathan and his wife, Olive van Bibber Boone.

Missouri can show you a rich and fascinating history in many fields. Since 1810, for instance, Brewing has been an important Missouri industry — and today "Beer Belongs" throughout the state. The United States Brewers Foundation, working in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, conducts a Self Regulation program which insures the sale of beer under orderly, well-regulated conditions.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults. Perfected by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

Cable Snaps; Five Killed, 14 Injured

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A cable snapped, and a construction elevator carrying 19 workmen plunged five floors to the ground yesterday. Five of the men were killed and the rest injured.

"It sounded like an explosion when it hit — then there were screams," said Bob Barsh, an insulation superintendent at the new Duval County courthouse the men were helping to build.

Among the horrified witnesses were women waiting for their husbands to finish up for the day.

The 85-foot fall killed George Edward Leach, 31; Dewey Woods, 39; Glenn D. Idol, 25; Jack Monroe Thomasson, 24; Dave Atmore, 56. All were white except Atmore.

The injured were distributed among five hospitals. Their conditions were reported serious or critical.

The elevator was on the outside of the new courthouse, a seven-story building being constructed along the St. Johns River in downtown Jacksonville.

Arthur W. Avent, vice president of George D. Auchter Co., general contractor for the project, said he could not explain what caused the accident. Safety devices on the elevator were "fool proof," he said, "but for some reason they didn't hold when the cable broke."

J. W. Waters, crane operator who was running the elevator from the ground, said it had been lifting marble slabs most of the afternoon. He said he threw the brakes when he saw it falling but they would not catch. He was hospitalized for shock.

Two Men Net $3.50 In Month Long Fight Over Dog Ownership

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Nearly a month of court action and the investment of at least $113 has netted two men here $3.50 each.

The legal battle began last month when Byrd Hensley and Kelsey Meadows claimed ownership of a female blue-tick hound. Each showed up in Harlan Circuit Court with five witnesses to back his case.

Calling it a practical draw, Judge Edward G. Hill ordered the hound sold at auction and the money split between the two men.

The auction was held yesterday and the hound was sold to C. W. Pennington, Cawood, Ky., the highest bidder, for $7.

Meadows and Hensley will split the $7. Their total court costs were $13. Estimated attorney fees were $50 each, leaving them $106 in the hole.

Big Money

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — A speaker at a farm meeting illustrated the amount of a billion dollars like this:

If a business lost $1,000 a day since the birth of Christ, it would take until the year 2736 to run through a billion.

Leave of Absence

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — The prisoner had only two requests — one to be released, the other to be sent back to jail.

It was so cold in the city jail prison officials agreed to let the inmate spend the night with relatives. They also agreed to take him back the next morning and send him to the Middlesex County workhouse "to straighten myself out."

School Board Upholds Discipline by Teacher For Rowdy Conduct

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Personnel Committee of the nearby District upheld a teacher who paddled three 7th and 8th grade boys recently.

The teacher, Robert F. Koby, had been accused of paddling one lad so severely he required medical treatment. The School Board previously paid $5 for a doctor's fee.

Koby said he paddled the boys because of their rowdy conduct on school buses. After a closed meeting last night, the Personnel Committee issued this statement:

"The discipline administered in this particular instance was, in the opinion of this committee, within the authority granted the teacher by law and by policy of the School Board."

Woman Gives 'Wrong Door' Raid Story

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The woman victim of the wrong-door crash-in aimed at Marilyn Monroe gave a county grand jury the story of her "night of terror" when a group of raiders burst into her bedroom.

"I was terrified," Mrs. Florence Kotz Ross testified yesterday. "The place was full of men. They were making a lot of noises and lights flashed on.

"They broke a lot of glasses in the kitchen getting out of there."

Mrs. Ross admitted she couldn't tell if Frank Sinatra was one of the raiders. "It was too dark and I was too shocked," she said.

The jurors today hope to end the hearing into the ill-starred Nov. 5, 1954, raid which ended in Mrs. Ross' apartment. One of the witnesses will be Sheila Stewart Renour, the actress Miss Monroe reportedly was visiting that night on another floor of the apartment.

Sinatra told the jurors yesterday he only went along for the ride with Joe DiMaggio and others assertedly seeking evidence against Miss Monroe, then the wife of the ex-Yankee Clipper.

This was the same story the crooner told a State Senate committee which recently investigated practices of private detectives in connection with scandal magazines.

Another witness, private detective Phil Irwin, said he also told the same story the senators heard: that Sinatra was an active participant in the raid and wasn't in a car "smoking a cigarette" as he claimed.

DiMaggio, in a disposition, backed Sinatra's story, and wrote that business matters in New York would prevent him from personally testifying. Miss Monroe, also invited to appear, has not been heard from yet.

UN Secretary Starts Trip To Mid East

CAIRO (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold headed for Cairo today to confer with Egyptian leaders on the future of Gaza, the Gulf of Aqaba, the Suez Canal and other issues threatening a new Middle East war.

Leaving New York by plane last night, Hammarskjold predicted "we may be able to establish a situation in Gaza that will give all parties satisfaction, including Israel."

The secretary general expects his trip to last nearly two weeks. He said he will see Egypt's President Nasser when he reaches Cairo tomorrow but added he did not know whether he would visit Israel.

Hammarskjold said his talks in Cairo would deal with U.N. responsibility for clearing the Suez Canal, future activities of the U.N. Emergency Force and perhaps "cover other ground."

His parting statement came on the heels of Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir's warning that Israel "cannot agree to a belligerent Egypt coming back to Gaza," and Premier David Ben-Gurion's in an interview that Israel would fight again if Nasser "tries to block our historic and legal passage" through the Gulf of Aqaba.

The UNEF units which moved into Gaza after Israel pulled out are being prodded by Egypt into gradually yielding up their holdings in the strip's towns for positions on the Gaza-Israeli frontier.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmound Fawzi was reported, however, to have assured U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche that Egypt has no intention of sending Egyptian troops into the Gaza Strip immediately.

A U.N. spokesman in Cairo denied a Cairo radio report, attributed to Gaza Gov. Hassan Abdel Latif, that UNEF had agreed to evacuate the strip within 48 hours and deploy exclusively along the 1949 armistice line. The spokesman said no time limit has been fixed for the shift.

In a terse memorandum, Nasser's government said yesterday it would respect the spirit of the 1888 agreement opening the canal to international traffic but ships plying the 103-mile waterway must pay tolls in advance to the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority or its agents.

The memorandum ignored a Western proposal that half the tolls be paid to an independent group such as the World Bank pending settlement of the claims.

No mention was made of Israeli shipping. Egypt contends she is still at war with Israel and therefore doesn't have to let her use the canal.

Maag to Speak At Kansas City Club Meeting

How man-made satellites are to be rocket-fired 250 miles into space and encircle the earth in 90 minutes will be explained and illustrated at Kansas City Museum at 8 p.m. Saturday by Russell Maag Sedalia, member of the U.S. "Moonwatch" Advisory Committee, when he describes the satellite project to the Astronomy Club of Kansas City.

The local amateur astronomers are to establish one of about 100 "Moonwatch stations" designed to "track" the satellites after they have been fired into space from Patrick Air Base in Florida. The first of twelve 21-inch diameter instrument-packed satellites are expected to be sent beyond the earth's gravitational pull this coming Fall or later during the 1957-1958 International Geophysical Year.

The Kansas City tracking station is being established by the amateurs on the rook of Linda Hall Library. It will be equipped with telescopes specially designed to sight the satellites and determine their orbits for further observational study by professional astronomers.

The 20-pound satellites are expected to transmit shortwave radio information to earth on such details as strength of cosmic rays, effects of the Aurora Borealis, a photon count of solar emissions, nature of the ionosphere and the density and character of gases in the upper atmosphere. Angular sighting of the satellites, speeding at 18,000 miles per hour, also is expected to give scientists their first accurate measurements of the earth.

Information the Kansas City amateur astronomers obtain through their tracking of the satellites will be reported direct to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., for electronic calculation of the missiles' speed and direction around the earth.

Cool and Wet Weather Will Greet Spring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A little cool and wet weather appeared likely to greet the arrival of spring in many parts of the country today.

A pair of low pressure areas spread a wide belt of precipitation in the eastern third of the country. One was over the lower Great Lakes region and the second off the Mid-Atlantic Coast, bringing snow, rain or drizzle from Lake Michigan eastward into southern New England and southward into the upper Ohio Valley and Mid-Atlantic Coast states.

Snow fell during the night from northern sections of Indiana and Ohio northward through Michigan. Rain or drizzle sprinkled other parts of the wet area. Amounts in most places were light. Rain or snow was indicated during the day in most of the North Atlantic Coast states with clearing skies forecast along the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Spring arrives at 4:17 p.m., EST, and with it some warmer weather was in prospect for chilled areas of the Midwest. The warmer air was expected to move across the upper Mississippi Valley to the Great Lakes region and southward into the lower Ohio Valley.

Hoffa Faces Indictment For Bribery

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa, bouncy little bigshot of the Teamsters Union, today faced an indictment accusing him of conspiring and bribing to get secrets of the Senate's racket probers.

Named codefendant with the 44-year-old Hoffa is Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney who in the past has served as counsel to congressional investigating committees.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee probing labor union activities said he was gratified at the prompt indictment. He expressed the hope Hoffa and Fischbach will be tried "at an early date."

Fischback said in Miami that "when I am tried, I shall be exonerated." He said he had been retained by Hoffa "but not for anything even remotely connected with the accusation."

Hoffa himself rested on his statement after his arrest a week ago tonight in which he vowed he was innocent of wrongdoing and said he will "fight this case until I am cleared."

The three-count indictment against Hoffa and Fischbach was returned late yesterday before Federal Dist. Judge Richmond B. Keech. No date was set for the defendants to answer.

In brief, here are the charges, with maximum penalties if convicted:

1. Conspiracy to bribe, conspiracy to obstruct operations of the McClelland committee, and conspiracy to defraud the United States "of and concerning its legislative and governmental functions and rights;" five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.

2. Bribery by giving John Cye Cheasty, a member of the committee staff, $2,000 "to influence and induce him to divulge" committee secrets and to turn over documents, papers and memoranda from its files; three years plus three times the amount of the bribe. Teh FBI says Cheasty reported the alleged bribe and cooperated fully in the investigation leading to Hoffa's arrest.

3. Obstructing and impeding the committee's "due and proper exercise of the power of inquiry;" five years, a $5,000 fine, or both.

The Senate committee's investigation so far has been concerned chiefly with allegations that West Coast officers of the Teamsters Union misused union funds and trafficked with vice and corruption in the Pacific Northwest.

Hoffa is a vice president of the Teamsters Union and head of its Central States Conference with headquarters in Detroit.

House Okays Bill on Milk Price Cutting

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate yesterday the embattled bill to prevent big dairies from invading the areas of little dairies.

Sponsors said they hoped it would protect the little man from price cutting operators from the big cities. Never did they name any firm they were trying to control. But they did mention Columbia and Jefferson City as suffering from the encroachments of a big outfit from Kansas City.

The bill carried some House-approved amendments that even the authors were not sure of. One House member said the present antitrust laws probably were sufficient to do what the bill's sponsors wanted done.

Under the bill, in one section, a big dairy could cut milk or milk product prices below cost provided it was done throughout the dairy's operating area—and not just an area in which the dairy was trying to enter.

Last night House committees approved bills to:

Establish an agricultural research center, operated by the University be Missouri's school of agriculture, in southeastern Missouri. Envisioned is a 600-acre experimental farm providing research in all phases of agriculture, from irrigation to testing new crops.

Rewrite the laws governing the state-controlled Police Department in Kansas City so the chief of police would have more security and responsibility and the city would know just how much financing it would have to provide for police protection.

He Addresses Optimists

Patrol Superintendent Says Better Safety Laws Needed

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, was speaker Tuesday at the noon meeting of Optimist Club at Bothwell Hotel and stressed the need for better safety laws in the state and more highway patrolmen to enforce them.

A ten point safety program, Col. Waggoner said, should be put into effect based on the uniform national safety laws. He stated he had always been strong for the uniform laws because it is difficult for drivers when they are accustomed to the laws of their state to try to keep within the laws of another state.

Speed, he pointed out, is not the cause of accidents necessarily, because slow drivers are often as careless and reckless. However, where several people are killed, it is practically always due to speed. Speed, he said, is responsible for accidents where the driver fails to make a curve, goes down a bluff, turning over several times, and finally hits a tree. The speed, he said, to do a thing like that has to be very fast and sometimes these people are not found for several days.

In the Highway Patrol, Col. Waggoner said, there are 355 officers with 290 officers on patrol duty around the clock. There are three shifts with one officer for 115 to 125 miles. It is impossible to enforce the law with that number, he said. If Missouri decides to have safety laws, the enforcement will not be effective because there is not a sufficient number of men to patrol the highways.

In addition to the thousands killed in accidents on the highways, Col. Waggoner said, there are great numbers also in hospitals and nursing homes from accidents, a great percentage of whom will spend the rest of their lives there. It certainly isn't a very pleasant duty, Col. Waggoner said, to have to go to the scene of an accident, determine how it happened, see the horrible sight and help pick up the victims.

The Highway Patrolman finds he has many other duties, warning people, rendering services of some kind — everything from finding a lost dog to helping an expectant mother. There are also about 765 automobiles stolen each year and the patrol apprehends more than 50 per cent of the thieves, Col. Waggoner said. Another job is weighing trucks and buses and enforcing laws.

Col. Waggoner stated that Highway Patrolmen talk to about 188,000 school children to teach them the mechanics and the laws of driving before they have reached the legal driver's age of 16. He believes firmly that a driving course in high school is a wonderful thing. Too many young people lose their lives because they lacked knowledge of what reckless and careless driving means.

Insurance rates, he said, in Missouri are high because of the number of accidents. Now the government is spending huge sums of money to build highways to save lives. There is tremendous congestion and it is going to get worse. There must be a tightening up of the laws, he said. Some of the laws we have today were writetn in 1921 when the situation, of course, was entirely different.

The basic thing, Col. Waggoner said, is to save lives. There were 17 people killed in Missouri last week in highway accidents. Most of these people were victims of other people. This is morally wrong. It is not following the scripture of "love thy neighbor." There are 85 per cent of the people who are good drivers, Col. Waggoner said, but the small percentage who for some reason or another are reckless and careless are the killers. They are more deadly than the man with a gun, he said, because you don't know what they are going to do. There are no teeth in the laws to do something with people of this kind, he said. They should not be allowed to retain their license after such an accident.

Col. Waggoner was introduced by Ed Kuhr, program chairman for the day.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Charles J. Blaich, president, with invocation by Dr. H. O. Wilbur. Singing was led by Charles Hanna, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Visitors introduced were Cal Rodgers, Jr., Kenneth Poynter, James Durley, Sgt. Ernest Van Winkle, Jim Mehl and Richard Morgan.

Ike Improves During Cruise To Bermuda

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP) — A six-day ocean cruise ends for President Eisenhower today as he arrives in Bermuda for conferences with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan on world problems.

Macmillan, the President's host, arranged to greet him on his arrival aboard the cruiser Canberra.

The Eisenhower - Macmillan talks will start tomorrow at the swank Mid-Ocean Club, where Eisenhower met in 1953 with Sir Winston Churchill, then Britain's prime minister, and Joseph Laniel, at that time French premier.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House physician, reported yesterday that Eisenhower has benefited a great deal from his six-day cruise. He said his ear inflammation now is "entirely cleared up," and that there are "no symptoms left of a cold."

The President still has "and probably will have for some time an occasional cough, although it is improving each day," he said.

The President's talks with Macmillan are to end Sunday. Eisenhower has been spending part of the last three days planning for the conferences. He has said they will include discussion of such matters as the Middle East problem and the future of Allied forces in Western Europe.

Yesterday afternoon Eisenhower got his second look in as many days at United States naval might in action. The latest demonstration brought the Canberra and its escorting destroyers under simulated atomic attack. On Monday he watched Navy Terrier guided missiles explode a pilotless "drone" plane into the sea.

The simulated atomic attack came during a drill of jet fighter planes and attack bombers launched from the 45-000-ton aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, about 200 miles away.

The planes fired as they pulled into steep climbs over wooden towed targets.

Then they joined in an aerial salute to Eisenhower, who saw the show from the Canberra deck.

Burrowes Urges Voters Approve Solons Pay Hike

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Arthur V. Burrowes, the president of the Missouri Public Expenditures Survey, Tuesday urged Missouri voters to approve a proposed constitutional amendment to increase salaries of members of the Missouri legislature to $300 a month.

Burrowes, editor of the St. Joseph News-Press and Gazette, was here for a meeting of the board of the expenditures survey, an organization of business and civic leaders which previously had gone on record in favor of the proposed amendment.

"Certainly a good legislator should be worth $300 a month," Burrowes said.

The proposal will be voted upon April 2.

Present salaries for Missouri legislators are $125 monthly.

Sedalians Attend Senate Hearing At Jefferson City

Tom Steinle and Abe Silverman representing the Sedalia Life Underwriters Association attended a Senate committee hearing at Jefferson City Tuesday evening.

The committee is currently conducting hearings relative to passage of an agent's qualification and licensing law for life insurance agents.

It is the considered opinion of the local association, Silverman said, that the Missouri Legislature should pass such a law since it is in the best interest of and protection for the many present and future life insurance policyholders in Missouri.

There is arleady in existence such laws in 34 states.

Officer, Man Who Sought Escape, Killed

LEAVENWORTH, Kas. (AP) — A city policeman and a man who tried to escape after his arrest on a minor charge were shot to death in a pistol duel on a Leavenworth street yesterday.

Patrolman Richard Coldren, 28, struck in the chest by a bullet, fired six times at Charles Mobuy, about 40.

Four of the six bullets struck Mobury, killing him instantly. Coldren lived six minutes after one slug from Mobury's foreign-made automatic pierced his chest.

The shooting occurred after Coldren had used his squad car to force Mobury's speeding auto to the cub. A witness, John F. Sailer, 70, told this story of the fight:

"I saw one police car stop the blue car. The guy (Mobury) jumped out of his car and held a gun right in the face of policeman Charles Pierce. The other policeman ran up and grabbed him and the man wheeled and shot."

Mobury fired his P38 pistol twice at Coldren before the patrolman began shooting.

A passenger in the car driven by Mobury, John A. Vutich, of Kansas City was unarmed, and apparently did not join in the fight, said Police Chief A. C. Mistler.

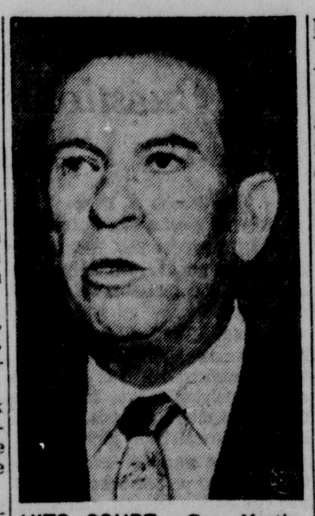

Vutich was jailed for investigation, however. Mistler said Vutich told him that Mobury had asked for a job in Vutich radio repair shop at Kansas City.

The chief quoted Vutich as saying he accompanied Mobury to a house which Mobury had rented here to pick up some radio parts and tools.

The owner of the house, who told police Mobury had not paid his rent recently, telephoned police when Mobury entered the house to get his equipment.

Coldren and Pierce, driving separate squad cars, were escorting Mobury to headquarters, when Mobury attempted to flee in his auto.

Chief Mistler said papers found in Mobury's pockets indicated that the man had violated parole from the Nebraska penitentiary. However, police said early today that they had not confirmed this.

HITS COURT — Gov. Martin Griffin, of Georgia, wants to impeach six justices of the Supreme Court, including Chief Justice Earl Warren. Griffin's lieutenants prepared a resolution for introduction in the state legislature charging the justices with various "high crimes and misdemeanors" and "attempting to subvert the Constitution of the United States."

Fish Jumps in Boat And Causes Damage

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carlsen were fishing with four friends in the Gulf of Mexico when a 400-pound devilfish, apparently trying to shake three sucker fish attached to its underside, jumped into the boat.

The impact broke the engine box to splinters and bent the steering column and gear shift. Mrs. Carlsen suffered a broken arm. The fish thrashed wildly in the bottom of the boat. It was brought ashore at Punta Rassa and shot. Mrs. Carlsen was taken to a hospital.

Resistance Breaks

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The city personnel department, after years of resistance, has agreed to change a help wanted advertisement to read: "Animal collector. To collect dead or alive animals." The ad read previously: "Animal collector, dead or alive."

OPERATION SALVAGE—No need for this bathtub admiral to worry about losing his boats in a "storm." He can always go after them with this toy salvage boat on display at the New York Toy Show. The four-inch hollow plastic diver is raised or lowered into the water by air pumped through a "life line." Craft is complete with life preservers and compass.

American GI, Japanese Girl Sentenced to Die

SENDAI, Japan (AP)—An American soldier and his Japanese girl friend today were sentenced to death by a Japanese court for robbing and killing a Japanese woman, then setting her home afire to hide their crime.

The death penalty was the first imposed on an American by Japanese authorities since the end of World War II.

Pvt. Orvis L. C. Boone, 24-year-old Galveston, Tex., Negro, and Shegeko Sasaki were sentenced by Dist. Judge Mizuo Yamada to be hanged for the triple crime last Sept. 4 in Sendai. The prosecution had asked only for life imprisonment.

The conviction can be appealed first to Japan's appeal court and later to the Supreme Court.

Boone already is under an Army court-martial life sentence for the bludgeon slaying of .S. Army Specialist Edward K. Maunakea, 21, of Honolulu, last July 31. His court-martial included testimony that Miss Sasaki would lure victims to an isolated spot for Boone to rob them.

Japanese courts since 1953 have tried American service personnel for offenses committed off their bases and while off duty. American civilians have been tried by Japanese courts for violations of Japanese laws since April 28, 1953, effective date of the San Francisco Peace Treaty.

Catches Seal on Beach

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—That sun-seeking seal has sealed his fate.

Two days ago he flopped onto the beach to bask in the sun only to flee three times from curious boardwalk strollers.

Yesterday, he showed up in the surf again. Two maintenance men on the famous Steel Pier took him in tow—right to the Philadelphia Zoo, whose officials were delighted to have him.

Three hundred and thirty-eight conventions and trade shows in 1956 attracted 345,000 visitors to Atlantic City in 1956.

Airline Uses Paper Jets To Save Cash

NEW YORK (AP)—A big airline is flying paper jets around various parts of the world and through a giant computer today. That way it hopes to save tidy sums of money when it enters the jet age with ite 300-million-dollar purchases of the new speed kings.

The jets are really on paper and their flights are strictly through the machine. But they simulate every between-cities route, and in a wide variety of altitudes, equipment, fuels, official rules and weather conditions.

Up comes the answer that the people at Pan American World Airways most want to know: the cheapest cost per ton-mile. The airline thus hopes to be ready when it gets delivery, starting in December 1958, on the 48 jets and spare parts it has on order.

Next the specifications on all other jets now being produced or planned will take the same paper trip through the IBM 705. And out of the big machine will come, perhaps, a valuable guide to future purchases of more jets.

If this data were worked out by hand, it would take one month per plane, according to John S. Woodbridge, Pan Am comptroller. With the mechanical brain the job can be done in half an hour.

It takes much longer than that to get the program set up and into the machine. But much of the material can be used over and over for different planes and different flight conditions.

For each paper jet being tested, technicians prepare 69 punch cards. Of these 45 describe the plane's various attributes.

The other 24 cards deal with the route between the two cities involved, such as distance, departure and destination airports' elevations, runway lengths and temperatures, wind values, fuel prices and distance and other required data on an alternate airport if needed.

These 69 cards for each of the various jets on order—Boeing and Douglas—are put through the machine, at several different altitudes of flight.

Pan Am is thus learning what plane is most economical under what conditions—and what routes are too short, or airport runways too skimpy, for any but highly expensive ton-mile costs.

Senate Committee Starts Review Series On American Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today starts the first of a series of hearings on American policy abroad.

Today's public session will inaugurate at least a three-week review of the effects of military and economic assistance.

The hearings will guide the committee in its consideration later of the administration's $4,400,000,000 military, economic and technical assistance program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Coming up in the weeks ahead is a new proposal to establish a career category of officers of the U.S. Information Agency, which operates Voice of America and other information activities abroad.

The committee also plans an inquiry into the State Department's denial of passports for newsmen to visit Red China.

Police Merit System

Suggestions that Sedalia consider the adoption of a merit system police department, an alternative provided in a law passed by the Missouri legislature two years ago, has been slow in development, but it finally blossomed at city council meeting Monday night.

Proponents of the plan are the policemen themselves who submitted a petition asking council's consideration. They made it emphatic, too, that their request was not aimed at the Chief of Police, an elected official, whose position would become an appointive one if the merit system plan is adopted.

Council thereupon authorized the mayor to appoint a bipartisan Citizens Committee to investigate and study the relative merits of operation of the police department under a Police Board as compared with the present method of an elected Chief of Police and appointed members of the department. Pertinent to the study and subsequent recommendations was the council's request for suggested sources of additional revenue to meet any increased costs above the 1956-57 police budget.

State legislation which became seed of the Sedalia policemen's petition, permits any city of the third class to adopt a merit system police department. The law provides for creation of a personnel board made up of equal numbers of members of the two political parties.

The board would be required to give examinations to candidates for appointment or promotion and to certify lists of eligibles to the mayor or other appointing authority. The appointing authority would be required to appoint or promote from a list of certified eligibles.

If in the course of time the Citizens Committee recommends to City Council adoption of the merit system, and Council approves and orders an ordinance drawn, then the merit system for police officers could be put into effect in 60 days, but no change could be made in the Chief of Police office until his present term expires. Chief Edgar Neighbors' two year term does not expire until April, 1958.

Under the new state law if adopted by the city ordinance the chief of police would be subject to the orders of the mayor only, and the deputy chief and other officers would be subject to the orders of their superiors in the department, and the mayor.

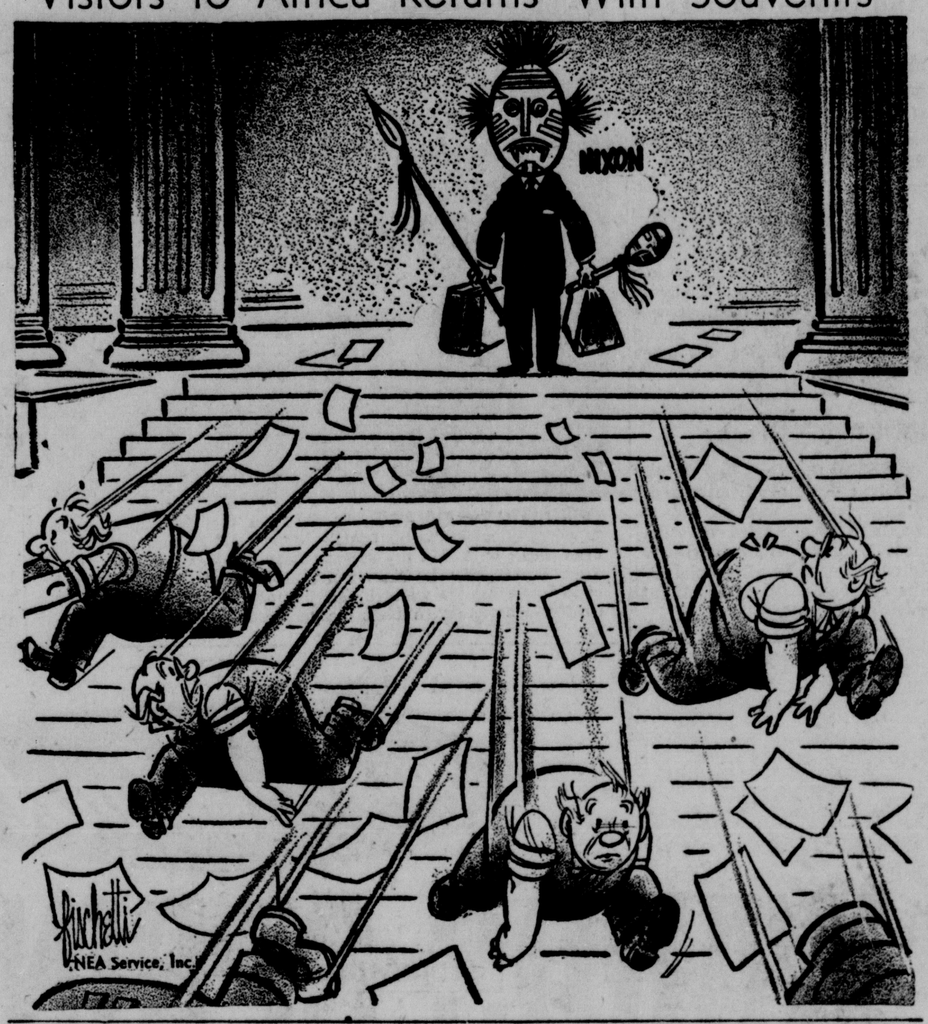

The law also provides that persons elected or appointed to office prior to the effective date of the law and the creation of a merit system shall continue in office for the remainder of the term for which they are elected or appointed.

There are opponents and proponents of the merit system police department. Opponents say it encourages more political control, but we don't quite see how that can be. Proponents, too, say this is pure nonsense. They point to the fact that under the present system the police chief is a political candidate every two years. He names his own officers subject to approval of the police board and city council; changes in administration invite complete upheaval of police personnel who therefore have no job security no matter how efficient they may be.

Sedalia's city council should be commended for not acting too hastily upon the policemen's petition for a merit system. Authorizing the mayor to appoint a bi-partisan Citizens Committee to study the matter first and make recommendations, follows a well established practice of the present city administration whose program for progress in our community has been consistently conducted on a business like basis. Such methods of procedure in matters of great public interest are bound to win public approval.

Further evidence of this, which brings genuine satisfaction to the taxpayers, is appointment by the mayor of Herman E. Bloess, William A. Howell, C. Ross Bothwell and Henry C. Salveter as a bipartisan new Board of Public Works to take over supervision of the Sedalia Water Company which the voters recently authorized the City of Sedalia to purchase.

What They Do Later Will Really Count

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's not what they say in the next few days but what they do afterwards that counts.

President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan meet in Bermuda tomorrow. Eisenhower and former Prime Minister Eden met here 13 months ago.

At the end of the conference Eisenhower and Macmillan will issue a statement, just as Eisenhower and Eden did at the end of theirs.

Almost certainly it will stress American-British unity, just as Eisenhower and Eden said: "Conscious of the unity of our two countries . . ."

Ironically they went on to say that if anyone began a war in the Middle East, which was tense at the time, they'd consult on how to stop it.

That was said on Feb. 1, 1956, when Eisenhower and Eden were thinking of the only kind of war which seemed possible at the time: an Arab-Israeli war.

But within 10 months Britain, France and Israel began the war with their invasion of Egypt, and American-British unity was literally shot to pieces.

Instead of conferring with Britain on how to stop somebody else's shooting, this country joined the United Nations in demanding that Britain, France and Israel stop.

The invasion of Egypt and the American stand against its friends caused a split between this country and Britain which hasn't been healed yet.

Trying to heal it will be the primary task confronting Eisenhower and Macmillan.

But how did the split happen? What had happened between last February and last fall to cause Britain, France and Israel to begin a war without even telling this country?

Those three countries got fed up with the leadership — or lack of leadership — of Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the Middle East.

They had sat back and taken no strong, positive leadership in trying to chill Egyptian President Nasser, who had seized the Suez Canal.

The same lack of American leadership in the Middle East — far more tense now than when Eden was here — could show up again in the same or another form.

So while Eisenhower and Macmillan may stand with their arms around each other's shoulders to face the world at Bermuda, the real nature of American-British relations will depend on events in the months ahead.

For the Middle East will provide Eisenhower and Macmillan with the most important problem they'll have to talk about, next to restoring some kind of unity.

If the United States has any real plan for bringing peace to the Middle East — which may mean taking a strong stand against Nasser and perhaps alienating much of the Arab world — neither Eisenhower nor Dulles has revealed it.

Israel Gets the Double Cross On Gaza

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — If you know the full inside story of the hectic negotiations by which Israel agreed to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba, you can't escape the conclusion that this little country has been given one of the biggest double-crosses of modern diplomacy.

This may seem an extreme statement but here is the hitherto unpublished record:

Around the middle of last month the Eisenhower administration was worried sick over the position in which it found itself regarding the pending UN vote for sanctions against Israel. It was so worried that the first thing Secretary Dulles did when Premier Guy Mollet of France arrived in Washington was to ask his help solving the UN-Israeli impasse.

"If there ever was a time when the United States needs the good offices of France 'tis now," Dulles said in effect. During the first three hours of the French-American meetings this was about all the State Department people talked about. Dulles couldn't get Israel and the UN off his mind.

The reason was easy to understand. The Eisenhower administration by this time had got itself into a position where it was damned by the Arab-Asian Bloc if it didn't vote for sanctions, and damned by a majority of Congress plus powerful political forces if it did.

What it needed was a compromise.

The West German government had politely but firmly notified Dulles that Germany would not go along with sanctions. Germany's commitment to Israel, made as a result of Hitler's massacre of 6,000,000 Jews, was a moral one, West Germany told the State Department. Chancellor Adenauer feels the obligation deeply, Dulles was told, therefore the German reparations payments to Israel would continue.

Dulles also knew that France, plus probably Australia, New Zealand, Canada and England would not go along with sanctions. Furthermore, both Senator Lyndon Johnston, the Democratic leader, and Senator William Knowland, the GOP leader, had publicly served notice on the administration that Congress would probably not agree to sanctions.

Finally, the administration was desperately anxious to get the Eisenhower Near East Doctrine okayed by the Senate. Every day of delay hurt the President's prestige both at home and abroad. And it became apparent that Senate leaders were not going to push a vote on the Eisenhower Doctrine until they knew whether sanctions were going to be voted against Israel.

All this was why Dulles literally begged Premier Mollet to help him out of the Near East dilemma.

In the negotiations which followed, the French suggested that instead of getting a flat guarantee from the UN or Egypt that the Egyptian army would not go back into the Gaza Strip, Israel might base its withdrawal on a series of assumptions which would be approved in advance by the United States and France.

Israel had been adamant that the thin finger of land extending 26 miles up along the Palentinian coast should not once again become a military base for raids into Israel. It was pointed out that Gaza had never been a part of Egypt, had always been a part of Palestine, and that its unnatural borders resulted from the fact that the Israeli army was halted there by Britain and the United States when the Israelis pushed Egypt out of Palestine in the war of independence in 1948.

So many murderous raids have been conducted from this little finger of land by Egyptian Fedayeen that no Israeli government could long remain in power if it permitted the Egyptian army to re-enter.

As a result of the French suggestion, however, a series of "assumptions" were drawn up by Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir. One "assumption" was that the civil and military administration of the Gaza Strip "will be exclusively by the UN." Another assumption was that the UN Administration would continue until "there is a peace settlement."

These and other assumptions were studied carefully in writing and agreed to by John Foster Dulles. He made six or eight changes in the wording. These Israel accepted.

It was also agreed that after Mrs. Meir made her UN speech outlining these assumptions, U.S. Ambassador Lodge should speak and describe the assumptions as "reasonable."

When Lodge spoke, however, he changed the signals. Instead of calling the assumptions "reasonable" as agreed, he called them "not unreasonable." He also went out of his way to emphasize that Egypt could exercise control over Gaza.

This was what made the Israeli government almost reverse itself and not get out of Gaza after all. An emergency meeting of the Israeli Cabinet debated a reversal. They were flabbergasted that the United States should have agreed to the terms of withdrawal, read over the terms of withdrawal, and then reneged on them. A meeting between the Israeli Chief of Staff, General Moshe Dayan, and UN Commander E. M. Burns was abruptly canceled.

Undoubtedly the Cabinet would have reversed its Foreign Minister's decision in Washington had not John Foster Dulles pulled a diplomatic rabbit out of his hat. He drafted a personal letter to Premier BenGurion, which President Eisenhower cabled to Jerusalem.

The President said what Ambassador Lodge was supposed to say but didn't. He said that the Israel "assumptions" were "reasonable." He went further and told Ben-Gurion he hoped they would "not be in vain."

This reassured the Cabinet. Israeli troops were pulled out of Gaza and Aqaba.

One day after the withdrawal, however, when it was too late for Israel to backtrack, Secretary Dulles told his press conference that President Eisenhower's letter did not mean what the Israelist thought it meant, that he did not endorse all of Mrs. Meir's assumptions.

That's why the Israelis feel they got the biggest double-cross in recent diplomatic history. That's also why Premier Guy Mollet recently remarked:

"This is not the first time France has found herself completely alone in championing a struggling young democracy.

The democracy that France championed in 1776 was the chief dealer of the double-cross to the democracy which France is defending today.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Billy Seelen and August Hintz of the Smith-Cotton High School Debate Club advanced to the finals in the district championship of the Missouri State Debating League by defeating Merton England and Harry Milles, Clinton, in the semi-finals at Clinton. The Christian Man

By Eugene Carson Blake, D.D.

III. MAN AND HIS COMMUNITY

John said to him, "Teacher, we saw a man casting out demons in your name, and we forbade him, because he was not following us." But Jesus said, "Do not forbid him; for one who does a mighty work in my name will be able soon after to speak evil of me. For he that is not against us is for us. For truly, I say to you, whoever gives you a cup of water to drink because you bear the name of Christ, will by no means lose his reward." Mark 9:38-41. Rsv.

A community is a very different thing from a mass of people. Perhaps the greatest problem of our modern society is that people are more and more crowding together in our cities. At the same time they have fewer and fewer intimate relationships with their neighbors. It is possible to live in a great city apartment house for months and years and never speak more than a formal word to the neighbors who live above, below and all around you.

Man was not made to live in such isolation from his fellows. The result of a lack of normal human relationships is often to produce either abnormal persons or abnormal relationships. Neurotic fear, greed, belligerence and depression may be expected to develop in persons who are too much alone. And who but people psychotically afraid of going home would spend hours jammed tgether in the discomfort of most night clubs?

But it is not easy to form a real community even in a village or small town where everybody at least knows about everybody else. Here, however, the problem of making a true community is caused not so much by too many people too close together as by the sin in all of us who find it easier to use people than to love them. A true community requires at least a common purpose and human cooperation in realizing that purpose together.

There is, however, an interesting incident in the Gospel which shows how hard it is to form a community even when a common need is recognized and a common purpose is accepted. One of Jesus' disciples came to him very much excited because he had found a man, not of their company, casting out demons and actually using the name of Jesus as he did so. "We stopped him," said the disciple.

Today we would probably think of "casting out demons" as a health program, psychological and religious. The point is that the stranger had accepted the same program as the disciples. But, they said, "Because he is not following us, we forbade him." But Jesus rebuked his disciples for their party spirit. "He that is not against us is for us."

But a community requires variety as well as unity. Christianity aims at community but, too often, like the disciples, we would drive from us the man who is in any way different. Christianity aims at communion, not identity. Communion implies independent and individual human beings in the right relationship with each other, giving and forgiving. Their common good is summed up in all that Jesus stood for and everything that the name of Christ connotes. "He that is not against us is for us."

Next: Man and his fellowmen.

Ruth Millett Says

'One-eyed Monster' Kills Manners and Conversation

"What is television doing to old-fashioned good manners?" a reader asks.

And then she cites instances of what often happens to the drop-in or the invited guest these days if the guest happens to arrive in the middle of a TV program.

"The guest is waved to a chair, almost grudgingly, if whoever answered the door missed a few lines of dialogue.

"His presence isn't regarded as a welcome treat but more as an intrusion.

Or if the parents aren't listening to TV and the children are, it's the same old story. While the television set blares forth, the host and hostess and guest try to talk above it, after the hostess explains sweetly, "It's the children's favorite program'."

Those aren't the only examples of the rudeness of some TV addicts.

All Must Yield to TV

Wives complain to me that the only time they can make a remark to their husbands without being shushed is during commercials.

Children, in some homes, find it impossible to compete against the TV set for their parents' attention. Nothing they want to talk about seems quite as important to their parents as whether or not some TV killer is going to be caught or how some TV tear-jerker is going to end.

So the children are told with a frown to keep quiet.

There were those who said that the American family would in time learn to relegate TV to its rightful place. But that hasn't been true in all homes.

Negotiation Secrecy

Big Question: Which Way Will the US Jump Next?

By Joseph A. Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower Administration is seemingly committed to the practice of secret diplomacy.

Ever since the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt last fall, the Administration has made a show of relying on the United Nations to resolve the crisis. In part, this was grandstand play.

Our effort was not confined to the U.N. Our people were very active behind the scenes, conferring, suggesting, and perhaps promising. It is impossible to be more precise because of the official curtain of secrecy surrounding all the negotiations.

For example, consider this question: What is our position with respect to Egypt's civil administration of the Gaza Strip? (Egypt's reassertion of control over this area distinctly threatens the shaky truce in the Mideast.) At his weekly press conference, President Eisenhower merely stated that U.N. chief Hammarskjold knew our views. That being so, he knows more than most of us.

The presumption is that United States must have given the British, French, and Israelis some assurance to hasten their withdrawal from Egyptian territory. At the least, our people must have put across the idea that Egypt could be controlled. Specifically, our people must have persuaded the aggressors that:

1. Israeli shipping would have access to the Suez Canal, from which it had been barred by Egypt in defiance of a U.N. resolution.

2. That Israeli shipping would have access to the Gulf of Aqaba.

3. That the rights of the British and French would receive due consideration in working out a settlement of the Suez Canal issue.

4. That the Administration of the Gaza strip would be so arranged that it would no longer be a base for Egyptian guerrilla forces operating against Israel.

Pronouncements by Col. Nasser's government suggest that none of these conditions will be met. The token force representing the U. N., which now is in the critical area, cannot enforce the conditions.

The question of the monent, and it's a question the British will certainly put to President Eisenhower during the Bermuda conference, is what does United States do now? It's a toughie, for almost no one here knows what our people intimated behind the scenes.

There's an uneasy suspicion that our allies, the British and French, have an impression that we are committed to act in the event of Egyptian non - compliance. That could result in complications if in fact we are not committed to act.

Past misunderstandings, which were outgrowths of secret diplomacy, have strained the alliance. Example: The British were ready to jump Nasser when the Canal was seized. Secretary Dulles then produced his plan for an association of Canal users. The plan, as presented to the public, seemed to imply that the United States would finance the cost of following the longer route around Africa, and thus exert economic pressure on an Egypt dependent on canal tolls. Dulles, according to the British, retreated by successive stages so that in the end his plan was a washout.

Few Americans had any clear conception of how badly let-down the British felt. Consequently, the British strike against Egypt came as a stunning surprise.

On the other side of the coin, the British public was inclined to attribute Egypt's seizure of the Canal to our abrupt cancellation of the Aswan High Dam project. Col. Nasser apparently thought of the High Dam as a super TVA. But in point of fact, we withdrew our offer to help finance the Dam at the request of the British. That detail British officials conveniently kept secret until after the invasion.

One effect of Anglo - American diplomacy, therefore, was to confuse the public mind in both countries.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Many people were very repentant on Ash Wednesday. They became very humble and determined to approach Easter with a deep sense of sacrifice. They thought about the hardship and suffering of Jesus during His last weeks of ministry. They were even critical of the indifference of His followers who left Him in His hours of loneliness.

Now, a large number who had a deep sense of guilt two weeks ago have forgotten their high resolve. They have overlooked the sacrifice which they were going to make. They have drifted back into their selfish ways.

Let us pause and evaluate our humility. If we are not daily studying the messages of Jesus which He gave to His followers, we could do well to begin reading some Scripture every day. His words will buoy us up in our way through life.

Investigators Rule Out Possible Sabotage In Fatal Plane Crash

MANILA (AP) — Philippine investigators today ruled out the possibility that sabotage caused the plane crash in which Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay died.

Col. Ricardo Papa, deputy constabular chief, said evidence gathered on Sunday's Cebu Island crash indicated no foul play was involved.

The investigators announced the crash which killed 26 persons was not preceded by an explosion as the sole survivor, newsman Nestor Mata, originally had reported.

The possibile causes were said to have been narrowed down to pilot error and engine failure.

Reconstructing the disaster, the investigators surmised that the two - engine plane's right wing snapped off against a tree as it skirted a mountainside.

Nearly 200,000 Filipinos kept a mourning vigil around Malacanan Palace and thousands filed past Magsaysay's flag - draped casket, lying in stte inside the palace until the funeral Friday. Floral tributes included a wreath from President Eisenhower.

Site of Many Famous Duels

Island In Mississippi River Now Part of Illinois City

By DON ROTH

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Grim men pulled on their oars and solemnly headed for the sandbar in the Mississippi River.

Spectators fringed the banks just north of the settlement of St. Louis and on the Illinois side of the river. Others sought roof tops and high windows to peer over the island's dense growth of underbrush.

In time, the spectacle was ended.

And the group of men—now one less in number — rowed back to shore after adorning the island — "Bloody Island"—with yet another white cross.

On and off for 50 years, from 1810 to 1860, "Bloody Island" was an ideal site for settling affairs of honor with long pistols

The island, formed by erratic currents around 1800, was claimed neither by Missouri nor Illinois. It was a jurisdictional no mans' land safe from sheriffs trying to enforce anti-dueilng laws.

The most famous duel waged there pitted Thomas Hart Benton, vain and pugnacious, against Charles Lucas, a 25-year-old U. S. attorney with a distaste for violence but not a hint of cowardice.

Benton and Lucas were rival attorneys in a law case. This coupled with other friction, culminated in Benton—later a Missouri senator for 30 years — calling Lucas a "puppy."

Lucas, his honor involved, challenged Benton and the two, met on "Bloody Island" at 6 o'clock one August morning in 1817.

Benton felled Lucas with the first shot and demanded another firing. The wounded Lucas replied he was satisfied.

But Benton was far from satisfied and exacted a pledge from Lucas that he would fight again.

Six weeks later they were on "Bloody Island" again, 10 feet apart. Benton shot Lucas in the arm. The bullet passed into his body near the heart and Lucas died a little while later.

In another famous duel in 1831, Army Major Thomas Biddle of the Philadelphia Biddles met Spencer Pettis, a Missouri congressman, after Biddle horsewhipped Pettis in his hotel room in a wrangle over newspaper articles.

Pettis challenged and Biddle, a nearsighted man, demanded the dueling distance be but five feet. Under the dueling code, the challenged man could select the weapons, the time and place of the meeting, and the distance.

And five feet it was when they met on the island with the long barrels of their pistols overlapping.

The pistols barked together and seconds later both men were dead.

These and many other duels of lesser note were fought on this sandbar.

But as mid-century approached the freak currents that had formed "Bloody Island" became responsible for its demise.

The St. Louis City Council, in 1847, passed an ordinance calling for a dike from the head of the island to the Illinois shore to turn the river current westward.

The dike caused the western edge of the island to wash away and the rest of it, in time, became covered with railroad tracks and industrial warehouses after the city of East St. Louis took the island within its limits.

And so "Bloody Island" where "the pistol was the umpire in every controversy" ceased to exist except in yellowed newspaper clippings.

Sedalia Girls Attend College House Party

Misses Judie Curran, Pat Lane and Linda Momberg, members of the Wasson Young Woman's Auxiliary of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, and Miss Virginia Greening, secretary of the East Church, attended the Missouri State Y.W.A. Approximately 275 girls, including the college Y.W.A.'s, were registered at the Houseparty. Many state Woman's Missionary Union workers and other outstanding speakers were present and conducted the services.

April Showers Are Near

Maps below show the U.S. Weather Bureau's long-range estimate of the nation's weather outlook from now until mid-April. It is not a specific forecast in the usual meteorological sense, but a prediction based on the best indications now available.

From the Mississippi River to the Pacific the coming of spring will mean chilly weather, with below-normal readings expected over most of this area. But the eastern section of the nation will have about the usual April temperatures.

Spring usually brings more rainy days than dry ones and this year should be no exception. Precipitation should be heavy over most of the nation except for the Great Plains, the far Southwest, and east of the Appalachians where normal amounts are indicated.

Tiger Thinclads Seek Win in Kemper Indoor

By VIC VAN DYNE

Saturday the Smith-Cotton track squad will travel to Kemper to participate in the Kemper Indoor Track Meet. The Tiger thinclads who won this meet last year will be out to prove themselves victorious for the second year.

Coach Forest Arnall and his assistant Sid Kennon, who only have five returning track lettermen, have been running the boys through their paces to try to find someone to fill the gaps.

The Tigers finished fifth in the Fayette Indoor Meet last week and have shown much improvement in the past week which should brighten their hopes for a first place victory.

The coaches have decided to take the following boys in the field events:

Shot Put, Ed Hall and Perry Fairfax; High Jump, Gary Christine and Marvin Maune; Broad Jump, James Murray and Jackie Benner; Pole Vault, Bob Walch and Melvin Brown.

In the track events the following boys will compete:

40 yd. dash, Bill Reed and Gary Hickman; 40 yd. low hurdles, James Murray and Gary Hickman; 40 yd. high hurdles, James Murray and Charles Dekel; quarter-mile, Melvin Brown and Bob Vedder; half-mile, Bob McFatricks and Jim Kresse; mile, Dick Morris and Bob Kreisler; 2/3-mile relay, Dan Reed, Dennis Whitfield, Bob Vedder, Melvin Brown, and Dick Craig.

The following are some of the teams scheduled to participate: Columbia, Marshall, Smith-Cotton, Brookfield, Kemper, Boonville, California and Pilot Grove.

Orton Faces Hagen on Mat Next Tuesday

The Sedalia area wrestling fans will see their demands fulfilled next Tuesday night in the Armory when ruthless Bob Orton reluctantly returns to the ring again to face Thor Hagen, the flying Viking from Minneapolis.

It's a grudge match of the first mangitude and a match which the sponsoring American Legion organization forced Orton to accept "or stay out of Sedalia."

Supporting the fans in their demands to see a return battle between Orton and Hagen, the Legion's wrestling committee instructed its matchmaker, Gust Karras, to sign the match or bar Orton, the current reigning Missouri state champion, from ever again appearing in the Armory.

Karras, equally anxious to force Orton into the re-match, conveyed the fan's edict to the big 6-4 Kansan. "Orton tried to balk but I told him to sign or stay out of town until he does," Karras remarked.

In signing for the return with Hagen, the arrogant Kansas will also be forced to again put the state title on the line.

The first Seladia clash betwnn the two rugged heavyweights produced a wild and wooly match which will long be remembered by Sedalia fans. Without question it was the roughest battle on record here, far overshadowing all other title matches down through the years.

Hagen had registered the initial fall, forcing Orton to break into wide-open wrestling. Unable to stop Hagen by more accepted wrestling methods, the villianous Orton resorted to the use of a pile-driver, which is illegal in many states. He crashed Hagen head-first to the canvas, knocking Minnesotan unconscious. Hagen couldn't answer the bell for the start of the third fall and Orton, declared the winner, swaggered out of the ring.

When Hagen regained consciousness and learned he had been declared the loser, he became enraged and defied Orton to come back into the ring. The cocksure Orton finally stalked back into the arena—but he lived to regret it.

The moment he stepped through the ropes, Hagen charged at him like a mad bull and gave Orton a dose of his own knee-dropping medicine. Bedlam broke loose with the fans wildly cheering Hagen as he battered Orton to the canvas. Hagen then retired to the dressing room. After he regained his feet, Orton charged towards Hagen's dressing room and tried to batter his way through the doors.

The big title grudge match far overshadows the balance of next Tuesday's card, but the two supporting matches still are top-notch attractions within themselves under more normal conditions. Mighty Atlas gets back into the title milling with a semi-wind-up clash against Sonny Meyers, while Rip Hawk, the blond bomber from Toledo, matches his unorthodox tactics against speedy Gentleman Jim Dobie in the opener.

The Legion has placed tickets on advance sale for Tuesday's matches at the Midway Shoe Repair shop and the Pacific Cafe.

Spartan Coach Has Tar Heel Upset in Mind

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — "Someone's going to snap that winning streak. It might just as well be us."

Forddy Anderson, confident young coach of the Michigan State basketball team was talking. He was speaking about the meeting Friday night in the NCAA semifinals with North Carolina, top-rated team in the nation with its 30-game win streak.

"No one needs to tell us what a great team Frank McGuire has," he said. "The record speaks for itself. But we think we're as good as the next team in this final showdown."

Anderson is an oddity in the coaching fraternity in that he's an incurable optimist.

He needed to be, the way things were going for his basketball Spartans early this season. At one point, State lost four straight games, three of them in Western Conference play and two by one point each.

Anderson was muttering about taking a canoe out on the Red Cedar River that flows through the Michigan State campus and kicking a hole in the bottom.

To add to his troubles, guard Jack Quiggle, State's leading scorer, broke training rules and was left behind on a road trip as punishment.

The whirlwind finish gave MSU a 10-4 conference record and a 14-8 regular season mark.

Babe Ruth League Registration Cards Available at Schools

Babe Ruth League registration cards are being distributed to the public and parochial schools of Sedalia. Any boy 13 to 15 years old may secure a registration card from his school principal and return it not later than March 27.

Any boy who may have failed to obtain a card from his school may get one at the Chamber of Commerce office and return it there after signing.

Babe Ruth baseball is open to any boy in the Sedalia 12-mile road district if his birth date falls on or after Sept. 1, 1941, and prior to Sept. 1, 1944.

Ernest Mulberry is in charge of the Babe Ruth sign-up for 1957.

NL Sluggers Out Perform Those of AL

The Associated Press

Home run sluggers are beginning to find the range on the exhibition circuit. So far, the National Leaguers are far ahead of the Americans.

In eight games yesterday, there were 23 homers and most of them broke up the old ball game.

Ten clubs have played 10 exhibitions and six have completed 11. A total of 161 homers have been hit—99 by National and 62 by American League teams.

The New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies have each clouted 17 homers, while the Chicago White Sox lead the Americans with a dozen.

Dick Stuart, the Pittsburgh rookie who belted 66 homers with Lincoln of the Western League last year; Jim Lemon, Washington; and Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, each have hit five exhibition blasts.

Stuart got two home runs yesterday as the Pirates defeated the White Sox 9-3. He fanned the other three times at bat.

Rookie Neil Chrisley hit a two-run homer in the ninth to provide Washington's 6-4 victory over Cincinnati. Clint Courtney's two-run homer had tied the score for Washington in the seventh. Gus Bell, Bob Henrich and George Crowe homered for the Redlegs.

Kansas City defeated Brooklyn 6-5 when Johnny Groth rapped the ball over the fence in the 10th inning in another duel of homers. Gus Zernial hit another for the A's, while Don Zimmer, Duke Snider and Gino Cimolo got one apiece for the Brooks.

Jim Piersall hit the first Boston homer of the spring, but it was a grand-slammer in the third inning and helped the Red Sox to a 7-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Phillies hit three homers and the Tigers two as Philadelphia took a 6-5 decision in 11 innings from Detroit. Joe Lonnett, reserve catcher, led off the 11th with a homer, and the Phils added another on three singles. Earlier two Phil rookies, Harry Anderson and Fred Van Dusen, homered, while Harvey Kuenn and Charlie Maxwell each hit one for Detroit.

Optimist Boys Win Annual Cage Tourney

The Optimist basketball team swept past the First Baptists 26-14 in the championship game last Sunday afternoon to take first place honors in the annual Optimist Basketball Tournament.

The tournament was held last Saturday and Sunday at Horace Mann Gym.

With the score tied 12-12 at halftime the Optimists swarmed back in the second half to outscore the Baptists 14-2 and win handily.

Dick Horner of the Optimists and Charles Case, Baptist center, scored ten points apiece to lead the scoring. Loy Holman tallied eight for the Optimist cause to give Horner good backing.

This is the fifth straight year that the Optimists have copped the crown although they have won the league championship only once in that span. Wally McCown is the Optimist coach.

In the consolation game the Sedalia Democrat team held on to a first half lead to beat Phillips 66 by a 29-24 score. Larry Lueck and Gary Stout paced the winners with nine and seven points respectively, although B. Walker, Phillips forward, took high point honors with ten.

Trophies will be presented to the top teams at the Optimist meeting April 2.

Opening round games were played Saturday afternoon with the the opening game 47-7. Lueck and Stout led the fast breaking Democrat team with 21 and 17 points. Tops for Troop 65 was Jerry Crutcher with four.

In the second game the Phillips team defeated the Optimist "B" team 59-27. The winners were paced by Iman who tallied 33 points on ten field goals and three charity tosses. Jerry Bozarth paced the Optimist attack with 11. J. R. Walker scored 18 to ably assist the Phillips cause.

The Capital Ramblers were caught in the Optimist steamroller and absorbed a 51 to 3 defeat in the afternoon's third game. Holman led the Optimists with 14 while Whitaker had 11. Billy Roe was the top scorer for the Ramblers.

The final first round game saw Tim Morgan score 18 points and Charles Case tally 14 to lead the First Baptist to a 40 to 12 win over the Capital Hustlers. Playing with only four men, the Hustlers were led by Gary Bryan and Albert Woolery.

In Saturday night's frist semi-final game the Optimists clamped a tight defense on the Democrat's fast break and scored a 37-18 win. Steve Shultz, Optimist forward, tipped in 12 points to lead the scoring with Dewey Whittaker close behind with ten. Jim Miller tallied seven points to lead the Democrat team.

The Baptists earned the right to a final berth by defeating Phillips 66 in the other semi-final contest 37-24. Tim Morgan took top-scoring honors with 17 points followed by Case with eight. J. R. Walker led the Phillips team with eight points.

Top scorer during the entire tournament was Larry Lueck, Democrat, with 38 points. A close second was Tim Morgan, Baptist, with 37. Robert Iman and J. R. Walker, Phillips 66, were third and fourth with 34 and 32 points, and Charles Case, Baptist, was fifth with 26 points. Gary Stout, Democrat, placed sixth in total scoring with 25 tallies.

The balance of the Optimist attack was evidenced by the placing of five Optimist players in the 7th through 11th positions in total tournament scoring. They were Loy Holman, 20, Dewey Whittaker, 19, James Anderson, 18, Steve Schultz, 14, and Dick Horner, 13.

The referees were under the direction of Howard Glavin and includd Ralph Dow, Bob Edmondson, Jim Bob Shepard, Bud Thomas, George Thompson, Don Brown, and Russell Gilmore.

'They'll Be Loose'

Tar Heels Coach Says Team Won't Let Pressure Harm It

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Coach Frank McGuire of undefeated North Carolina says he thinks his team won't be affected by pressure to protect its 30-game winning streak at the NCAA basketball tournament this weekend.

"It doesn't mean anything now," he said. "My boys know we have only two more games to go. I think they'll be loose."

McGuire and the other three coaches of teams which will compete in the semifinal round of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. tourney Friday night talked with reporters here in a 4-way telephone interview yesterday.

North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, will play Michigan State for the Eastern championship in the first semifinal game at Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. (CST).

The No. 2 team, Kansas University, meets San Francisco for the Western title in the second game, scheduled to begin at 9:30 p.m.

NCAA Executive Secretary Walter Byers said last night it still is negotiating with television networks for a nationwide telecast of the finals Saturday night. He said the semifinal round might be telecast regionally.

The auditorium was sold out for both nights weeks ago.

North Carolina's chances depend to a great extent on the performance of All-American Lenny Rosenbluth, a 6-5 senior. McGuire said Rosenbluth is the greatest player he ever has coached.

"Rosenbluth can score from any place on the court," McGuire said. "He was the key man in our all victorious 30 game season."

Michigan State's Forddy Anderson said his team doesn't have a "Rosenbluth or a (Wilt) Chamberlain" but "we have some good boys."

"Most significant, I think, is the fact we've had five players come through with double figures in several games," Anderson said.

Coach Phil Woolpert of the defending champion San Francisco Dons said he doesn't have any special plans for bottling up Kansas' 7-foot Chamberlain, an All-America player in his sophomore year.

"We may use five men against Wilt or we may ignore him," said Woolpert, whose teams stress defense. "We have learned from films we've seen that Chamberlain is practically unstoppable."

Dick Harp, in his first season as a head coach at Kansas, said he believes his team will be in trouble if San Francisco fashions an early lead.

He said Woolpert "has three men back from last year's championship team and for the third year in a row the Dons are the top defensive team of the nation."

Invitational Semifinals Are Scheduled

NEW YORK (AP)—It's Bradley vs. Temple and Memphis State vs. St. Bonaventure in tomorrow night's semifinals in the National Invitation basketball tourney.

Temple and Bradley reached the round of four last night by whipping Dayton 77-66 and Xavier of Ohio 116-81, respectively. Each put on decisive second-half rallies to win easily.

Memphis State and the Bonnies won their quarterfinal games Monday night.

Bradley, making its first Madison Square Garden appearance since losing to CCNY in the 1950 finals of both the NIT and NCAA, astounded the crowd of 10,543 by routing Xavier after trailing 38-17. The Missouri Valley Conference team finished by setting an all-time Garden and NIT single-game scoring record.

Shellie McMillon scored the field goal that shattered the previous NIT record of 110 made by St. Louis against Connecticut in 1955. A few seconds before the end Dave Emerson tossed in two free throws that erased the all-time Garden mark of 115 by St. John's of Brooklyn against

Red Buttons Tries Hand At Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Red Buttons, one of television's most famous victims, is now trying his hand at the movies.

The comic's meteoric rise and fall in TV is now the classic example of how the new medium consumes talent. In three years, he went from brilliant success to unemployment.

Of course it's not as bad as all that, because Buttons is a bright, talented fellow who can always earn a mighty good living in night clubs, TV guest shots, etc. But being an ambitious guy, he's looking for new fields to conquer. Such as the movies.

Right now he's appearing with Marlon Brando in "Sayonara," playing an important dramatic role. His work is reportedly so good that William Wellman wants him for a leading role in "Darby's Rangers." Soon he may be able to say, "Who needs TV?"

Just returned from locations in Japan, Red was full of enthusiasm. He explained that the role was the idea of an agent in New York with access to director Josh Logan. After Red finished the James Michener book, he told the agent, "Get me that role or get out of town!"

"I tested twice for the part," Red disclosed, "once in New York and once out here. The tests were so extensive that they could just put scenery around them and release the footage as a feature film.

"But I could understand their caution. After all, I was just a pro comic with no reputation as an actor."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

No Regular Weekly Show By Gleason

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It now appears certain that Jackie Gleason will not be presenting a regular weekly television show on CBS-TV in the 1957-58 season.

Gleason's manager George Durgom says that no contract for a weekly show has been signed with the network for next season and that Gleason does not want to continue a weekly program.

While CBS has no official comment, it is known that a new hour-length mystery program based on the adventures of Perry Mason is tentatively scheduled for Gleason's Saturday night hour.

The breaking up of the Gleason troupe is imminent. Art Carney has announced that he is separating himself from Gleason this spring. Audrey Meadow's contract is up for option in June.

After seven years Gleason has found that a weekly TV program "is physically too tough," Durgom said.

This does not mean that Gleason will not be seen on television. His contract with CBS has 15 years to run — and he will be paid whether or not he works.

But Gleason likes to work — in moderation. An excellent actor, he loves show business and obviously is interested in dramatic roles. He will play himself, for example, in a Climax dramatic production next month about the life of June Taylor.

This season his audience viewing ratings have slipped below those of Perry Como, who appears opposite him on NBC-TV.

Hal Boyle's Column

The US Now Has One Dog For Every Seven Persons

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the American tourist industry is the greatest on earth. Yet a recent survey showed 75 per cent of U. S. adults never have made a journey by air, 50 per cent haven't made a trip of more than 100 miles by bus, and 30 per cent have never traveled by train.

That this country may not be going to the bow-wows — it now has one dog for every seven persons.

That the White House appears on only one U. S. bill—the double sawbuck.

That here is what happens to you when you kiss a pretty girl: the pituitary gland begins secreting like crazy, the adrenal glands are stimulated, the blood pressure rises, some white blood cells break down, the pulse circulation speeds up. If there is no pretty girl handy, you can get the same results by running around the block.

That the average American now eats an egg a day.

That Minnesota has more water within its borders than any other state in the union.

That one out of every three million persons has handwriting so close to your own that only an expert could tell the difference.

That bandleader Sammy Kaye says he knows a musician who is up to his neck in notes—promissary notes.

That your car contains about 100 pounds of rubber, not including the tires.

That you have roughly a pint of blood for every 12 pounds of body weight, if your weight is normal.

That the phrase "passing the buck," meaning to shift responsibility, originated in cardrooms from the custom of placing a counter or marker, called a "buck," before a player to remind him it's his turn to deal.

That if you like living in towns with old names you might consider moving to Bumble Bee, Ariz. Hygiene, Colo., Heck, N. M., Bourbon, Ind., Frostproof, Fla., Social Circle, Ga., or Cannon Ball, N. D.

That Spyros Skouras, the movie tycoon, turns out so much mail he has three personal secretaries.

That rheumatoid arthritis affects three times as many women as men, but spinal cases hit ten times more men than women.

That for 10 straight years France has been the favorite overseas playground of American tourists. In 1956 Gay Paree drew half a million U.S. visitors.

That a major food concern now is distributing phonograph recordings of menus to help blind housewives.

That chocolate, vanilla and strawberry are still the three most popular kinds of ice cream. Among the 200 flavors available are Asparagus, Tomato sherbet and spinach.

That the 75,000 miniature railroad fans in America spend 15 million dollars a year on their hobby. The average fan is 33 years old, earns $6,222 a year, has his own home, a wife and three kids, spends 6.8 hours a week and $2.88 maintaining his toy trains.

That it was William Bolitho who said, "Freeing oppressed nationalities is perhaps the most dangerous of all philanthropic enterprises."

Beacons in the Night

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP)—Hearing an airplane circle about the town at night, residents here knew what to do.

One hundred motorists headed for the airport, lined up their cars on either side of the landing strip, and kept their lights burning.

The pilot made a perfect landing and out stepped a Middlesboro physician who had been helping staff a clinic in Knoxville, Tenn.

Why the need for the motorists? The airport has no facilities for night landings.

Thoughtful Customer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Carl Serio, pressed for time on a morning when the temperature was zero, put a cup of too-hot coffee in the milk chute to cool while he finished getting ready for work.

When he returned the coffee was gone.

Serio searched about the hall, then looked outside and there was the milkman drinking the coffee.

"Thanks, mighty thoughtful," said the deliveryman.

"Nothing at all," said Serio meekly.

Plays Opposite Sinatra

Little Terrier With a Big Kosher Appetite Is a Star

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A little unkosher dog wit.. a big kosher appetite — only days removed from execution in a dog pound—today is costarred in a movie with Frank Sinatra, Kim Novak and Rita Hayworth.

It's Hollywood's greatest Cinderella story since Marilyn Monroe and the most unique talent search since Scarlet O'Hara.

Snuffy, a cairn terrier, ate himself into a $500-a-week contract to costar with the famous trio in the upcoming movie version of "Pal Joey."

The script calls for a dog to play Sinatra's pet and eat the same type of kosher food that he does.

Sinatra, director George Sidney and producer Fred Kohlmar were judges at a canine audition held last night at Nate 'n' Al's Elite Kosher Delicatessen in Beverly Hills.

Nine dogs made the finals of the audition, which stems from an Associated Press story of a few weeks ago. Soon after the story appeared, more than 5,000 letters, plus hundreds of phone calls from such places as New York, Tokyo, London, Paris and South America deluged Columbia Pictures.

A Beverly Hills dog merely sniffed at the audition plate of lox, cream and cheese and bagels.

"I can't understand it," its owner moaned. "He just loved the food over at Romanoff's.'

A huge St. Bernard, complete with brandy keg around its neck, was one entrant. Sinatra shook his head.

"We can have no dogs bigger than the star.'

An early favorite in the judging was a Bassett hound with the unusual name of Harry Bernstein.

The owner, with a straight face, old Sinatra: "I think you know his father, Marvin Cohen."

Sinatra did a double take: "You mean someone actually named a dog Marvin Cohen?"

Harry ate everything, including a piece of Sinatra's finger.

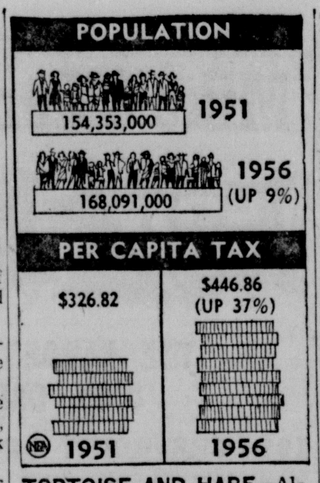

"I think he overacts," the thin singer quipped.

Finally, came little Snuffy, with his little ears and big eyes. He devoured the bagels and lox like the Russians were in nearby Pomona.

Bert Morse, a chief inspector for the Los Angeles city dog pound, from Arcadia, Calif., is Snuffy's owner. He said he had read of the search for a bagel beagle and decided to enter Snuffy. The dog, already nine days in the pound, would have been put to sleep the next day.

Now he is a movie star with a cast that even Rin Tin Tin or Lassie never rated.

As flash bulbs popped from a small army of photographers Snuffy was crowned with a giant sized bagel — a sort of albino doughnut.

TORTOISE AND HARE—Although the U.S. population increased only 9 per cent between 1951-56, per capita federal taxes went up 37 per cent, according to Commerce Clearing House, national reporting authority on tax and business law. Lowest federal tax take since 1867 was $1.98 per capita in 1885, CCH reports. Highest was last year's $446.86.

Says Plastics May Determine Air Future

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Plastics may shape the jet age future and determine America's aviation superiority, says Brig. Gen. Thomas L. Bryan Jr., commander of the Wright Air Development Center.

He told the Society of Plastics Industry "We think we have the theory to pilot an aircraft 10 years from now at five times the speed of sound, and I think we could get to the moon now if we had the proper materials. We know how to do these things, but we just don't have the necessary things to do them with. Materials have become the key to our continued progress in aviation and to our superiority in the air."

Workers Get Free Beer, Bagels on Job In New York State

NEW YORK (AP)—Bagels, beer and birthday pay are now provided some workers in New York state under unusual contract clauses.

The special provisions are discussed in this month's issue of the State Labor Department magazine Industrial Bulletin.

A Teamsters local has an agreement with New York City bagel manufacturers that permits all employes to take home two dozen free bagels at the end of each working day.

Another Teamster contract with a brewery allows workers unlimited free consumption of beer during specified periods of the day.

Closer Watch Needed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Tom Brett, Oklahoma Civil Defense director, finally has learned what happened to $430 in federal funds sent last Oct. 30 to a defense director in a small northwest Oklahoma town.

The check was to go toward purchasing a disaster warning system. It was never cashed. The director died unexpectedly and Brett started investigating to learn what happened to the missing money.

Finally, he questioned employes at the late director's newspaper plant. Brett had mailed the check in the same type of envelope used for press releases.

"He always threw those in the waste basket without opening them," Brett was told.

Actress, Husband Will End Marriage

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Janis Paige and her husband, television writer and producer Arthur Stander, have embarked upon a "mental separation."

That is what a spokesman for Miss Paige calls it. He said yesterday that although they are living in different rooms of the same house, they have come to the conclusion they will have to part. They've been married 14 months.
